World Wide Web Memorials

Gippsland Funeral Services understands the special need of families to memorialise their loved ones.

Traditional physical memorials frequently don't suit modern families who often live in different locations.

The internet offers a unique way of providing a memorial that is accessible across town, across the state and even across the world.

Gippsland Funeral Services has made available space on its web site: www.gippslandfuneralservices.com.au for families to memorialise their loved ones.

This service is available to families who entrusted the care of their loved one to Gippsland Funeral Services at any stage since the firm started in 1932.

The standard memorial is complimentary to these families with extra charges only applying to additional options. For full details please refer to the web site.

To take advantage of the free memorial, simply fill out this form and return to Gippsland Funeral Services.

Alternatively, this form can also be accessed on our web site: www.gippslandfuneralservices.com.au

What Does The Complimentary Standard Memorial Include?

The wording of the memorial is up to you. Many families choose to have wording similar to the following:

Herbert John Citizen
(PHOTO)
01 January 1901 to 18 February 1988
Loved Husband of Julie, Father of Fred, Janet and Samantha and Dear Poppy of Jason, Charlie, Zambuca and Fae.
At Rest

Up to 50 words are included in the complimentary memorial along with a photo. (For text supplied electronically, the word limit is increased to 1,000 words). The photo will be re-sized to the standard size used on the website.

Additional objects such as words, photos and alterations to existing memorials will be charged according to our current rates.

Where Do I Go For Further Information?

Our web site at www.gippslandfuneralservices.com.au has full details on the memorials.
